Introduction

The basis for any deployment includes the following:

- How will devices be enrolled?
- How will devices be assigned - to users, shared device groups, etc.?
- Will users be imported and from which source?
- Who will complete the enrollment process - IT or end users (students/teachers)?
- What configurations should be applied and which apps should be installed?

The following sections provide information on what can be accomplished using Mosyle for your deployment to help with the discussion and decision-making for the questions above.
